The portrait sign holder is an effective way to display menus and drink specials on a bar or restaurant tabletop, channel lineups in hotel rooms, important information or photos at special events, and so much more. The paper slips in easily through the sides, and can be used to display one item or two prints back-to-back to create a double-sided display. The clear acrylic provides an unobstructed view, as well as long-term durability and protection for the advertisements inside, keeping them safe from stains, scratches and tears. Standing by itself on any table or desktop, the slanted orientation furnishes an easy and clear view of the graphics within the display.
